

CITIZENS ADVISORY COMMITTEE
PARTNER UPDATES
January 2019

WESTERN STOCK SHOW ASSOCIATION

- Stock show ended with great attendance numbers, but with a heavy heart as we lost a contestant for the first time in 113 years.
- We are preparing for the Motorcycle show this weekend, which is a huge show.
- Rodeo All Star weekend and the Denver County Fair will dominate our time the next few months.

COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY

Partner connections:

- CSU was proud to be involved with the National Western Stock Show for the 113th year!
 - Efforts included attending NWSS events, CSU Day at the NWSS on Jan. 19, and two booths as part of the 16-day event. Congrats NWSS!
 - CSU staff took the Upward Bound students from BRS to the Mexican Rodeo – thanks to NWSS for the discounted tickets.
- CSU attended the Clinica Tepeyac appreciation party on Jan. 16
- CSU is working with Laradon School on an expanded partnership, which includes work with Occupational Therapy students and CSU Extension's horticulture team.
- CSU staff is engaged in the Focus Points Family Resource Center 2Gen2Go Huerta Urbana project working team.

Community events/efforts:

- CSU professors have been in the classroom at Bruce Randolph School speaking about their areas of expertise in Civics and Human Geography courses.
- CSU hosted the "Road to CSU" on January 14. This first-year event at Bruce Randolph came about through a brainstorming session with BRS leadership and was offered to freshmen students to learn about college as a viable option for them. CSU Access Center staff came down and led the entire freshmen class through the full-day event.
- CSU's Water in the West Symposium is scheduled for March 13-14 at Gaylord Rockies – registration is now open!
- CSU soil map research should be done this summer, and will resume testing in early Spring.

2018 recap:

- The University has partnerships with 16 non-profits or schools in the GES area.
- CSU attended, provided programming, or supported 33 partner events in GES + hosted nine events in GES during 2018, for a total of 42 events with CSU presence.

HISTORY COLORADO

Day of Remembrance Weekend

February 16 -17

History Colorado Center

- Contested Histories: Art and Artifacts from the Allen Hendershott Eaton Collection, photographs, art and artifacts from wartime concentration camps – many from Amache, the camp in southeast Colorado.
- Saturday, Feb. 16 - 7 pm: Satsuki Ina's first documentary "Children of the Camps," and a short feature, "Seppuku," by a young Japanese American filmmaker, Daryn Wakasa. Both films focus on the intergenerational transmission of trauma caused by the wartime incarceration. There will be a discussion with both filmmakers after the screening.
- Sunday, Feb. 17: Denver University's Archaeology Department professor Bonnie Clark will display artifacts from Colorado's concentration camp Amache and share information about students' ongoing historical dig at the remote site in southeast Colorado.

Community Celebration Day

March 2

9:00 am

History Colorado Center

- At History Colorado we want to recognize the role you have played in preserving the history of many communities. Through your involvement in the Globeville Elyria Swansea Neighborhood Memory Project, we are enriched by your connection to us. And, we hope to continue the conversation! We will host a light breakfast, provide updates on new community engagement strategies, and hear from our collections and curatorial departments. Don't miss a behind the scenes tour with our staff and free admission to our exhibits!
- Please RSVP by FEBRUARY 8 by emailing reservations@state.co.us or calling 303/866.2394.
